Helping Companies build better,scalable software.

Award-winning web developer and author,with over 15+ years of working experience with Forture 500 Companies like Apple, Google,Facebook, and more.

Spense.com

Rethinking the way winners get paid,an open-source platform designed to help winners focus more on writing,and less on when and how they'll get paid,project in collaboration with Codewell.cc

YelpCamp.com

Allowing Deskpack travelers to perfectly plan their trip through an open-source platform similiar to TripAdvisor with over 1m MAU,YelpCamp has been the crowds favourite in 2021.

A co-founder at one of the world's largest communities.

The combined experience I have working at the top fortune 500 Companies has allowed me to development,but in every aspect of any business

I'm proud to announce that I am now working at one of the world's largest communities teaching young minds about how to set yourself as a developer open them to a whole new world of opportunities.

As a developer,you have everything available to you and all that's holding you back is yourself

A quote I live by perfectly illustrates what I mean.

"How big would you dream,if you knew you wouldn't fail?" you've already gone through the hardest parts being a developer,it's time to elevate your skills and become a leader in something you're passionate about.

I'm happy to chat over coffee some time about how I can help your company.

Interested in working with me?

I'm active on all social media platforms listed below, but you on all social media platforms listed below,but you can also me an email and I will get back to you within 24-48hours.

Get in touch

Johnathan Speaker   f🐦in